

(being 1029) each, and the members on (and tickets having one, only, of the drawn numbers on, (being 11,478) each.
 No ticket which shall have drawn a prize of a superior denomination can be entitled to an inferior prize.
 Prizes payable forty days after the drawing, and subject to the usual deduction of fifteen per cent.
 Tickets and Shares for sale at the Managers' Office
 No. 21 Chancery street, at Scheme price, 1 unit, Wednesday night, the 17th of June, inst. after which they will advance to 6s. YATES & MINYER, Managers.
 Philadelphia, June, 1869. June 21 - 18

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

...the father, what other...

Evening Post.

OFFICE No. 112 CHESTNUT STREET.

Price—$2 per annum—payable in advance.

$3 per annum—payable in advance.

$1 per annum—payable in advance.

Papers discontinued at the option of the Publisher.

Small notices of advertisements received at par value for subscriptions, &c. by mail.

EPITOME.

From the Yearly Meeting of Friends held in New-

York, by Adjournments from the 20th of the 5th

Month to the 29th of the same, inclusive, 1829.

To our Meetings and the Members composing them.

DEAR FRIENDS,

We have again been favored to meet in the capacity of a Yearly Meeting; and of the various interesting concerns which have, at this time, engaged our attention, the different allotments of our absent brethren and sisters, under the peculiar trials that have attended them, since our last meeting, have deeply interested our best feelings.

We may inform you, that this meeting has been large, and in its several sessions we have experienced a precious covering, under which many dear friends were enabled to extend the word of counsel, of caution, and of encouragement.

The deficiencies observable in the accounts from our quarterly meetings, were the occasion of many pertinent remarks; and we regret that our absent members could not be partakers of the exercises.

Let us consider, beloved friends, that the late extraordinary occurrences in our society, have produced an interest in the minds of others, to which we cannot be indifferent. Then is there not a necessity to double our diligence, and to examine narrowly our conduct, lest instead of proving ourselves followers of Christ, we become stumbling blocks to the honest inquirer, and bring reproach on our high profession?

It is with reluctance that we advert, in this epistle, to some of the charges so widely circulated against us; and whilst we recommend to each member of the society, the refutation of them by a careful attention to his own conduct,

we can, as a yearly meeting, confidently assert that they are unfounded calumnies.

Those who have voluntarily withdrawn from us, have charged us with having driven them from our meetings. This is so far from being true, that their departure was contrary to our advice, but preferred by themselves, to a submission to the established usages of the society.

An offer to them has since been several times repeated by us, to enter into an equitable arrangement in regard to the property; but it has been not without silent neglect, instead of agreement, which characterizes the man of pure intentions.

We are also constrained to declare, that we know none amongst us who deny the Scriptures.

Should any such be found, we recommend them to the particular care of the Society, that by suitable labor, they may be convinced of their error. How could we escape the charge of hypoocrisy, should we deny the Scriptures, and at the same time call, as we do in the queries, for a frequent perusal of them, and exhortation to highly esteem those invaluable writings, and desire that all, and more particularly the youth

LIST OF INSOLVENTS.

(As far as could be obtained.) to be heard before the Judges of the District Court, on the 24th

June, 1829. The names of those who give private notice to their creditors, cannot be obtained for publication.

J. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

A. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

Thos. Adams, insolvent, National Hotel, Chestnut St.

EPITOME OF THE TIMES.

The Premier's Brewery, at the corner of Tenth and Fifth streets, was purchased on Tuesday by Messrs. L. D. and J. D. for the sum of twenty seven thousand dollars. There is a ground rent of 700 dollars per annum on the premises. The original cost of the property was 70,000 dollars.

A man, attempting to break a spirited young horse to go in a gig, Sunday morning, in California street, was thrown out, and his thigh broken in two places. He was immediately taken to the hospital.

The June term of the Court of Quarter Sessions, ended on Friday last. The term was only nine days in duration. 144 bills were acted on by the Grand Jury, 60 of these were for assaults and batteries, of which 24 were returned "ignoramus," prosecutor to pay cost." Forty-three were bills for larceny.

It appears that during the recent earthquake

in Spain, several persons afflicted with violent verbal impression. The heat during the past week has been raging most furiously, to the great annoyance of all who are not partial to the temperature of the tropic zone; and more especially to our disquiet, who are as sensitive in this matter as a Norwegian. Tuesday and Wednesday, particularly the latter, were literally scorching; (a more expressive word than some which are more classical,) and vain would be the attempt to delineate the suffering we underwent in our walks abroad, and even in our quiet restings (if so they could be called) at home. A vapour bath, at 80 above zero, would have been coolness itself, compared with the state of our feeling. About noon, on Wednesday, the weather, which had been gradually becoming warm, grew intensely hot, and before five o'clock was almost insupportable. Not a breath of air was afloat, to cool the glowing features; and men panted as if their hearts were bursting; when suddenly a heavy mass of cloud was seen rising out of the west, and all eyes were strained to catch the portent of a coming storm. For a little time it continued to ascend, and then a gust of wind swept along, carrying in its course such volumes of dust, that all objects were completely enveloped for a little time in "darkness visible." Soon, however, the wind subsided, and then the welcome rain poured down upon the parched earth in torrents. Never did we feel more forcibly the truth and beauty of Shakespeare's famous illustration of mercy.

</

"Like the rain,
Upon the earth beneath, it is twice blessed;
It bleeth him that gives and him that takes."

than as we sat cooling our fevered brow, and looking abroad upon the reviving insensibility of the shower was then exercising. For several hours the rain continued with increased violence, and at intervals, until midnight, accompanied by extremely heavy thunder. One pool we remember particularly, for it fell upon our ear with such terrible distinctness that, for a moment, we were almost paralyzed. The lightning, too, which played about in broad sheets, was unusually vivid.

On Thursday the weather was comfortable. The dust in the streets was laid, and the atmosphere purified, by the storm of the preceding night; and a fine, fresh, balmy current of air kept us in good humour throughout the day. How long this may continue, we know not, but for its welcome presence we are duly thankful; first, because it has relieved our wearied frame, and given a new impulse to our depressed feelings; and secondly, because it has enabled us to make a paragraph, which otherwise would probably have cost us some trouble.

ACADEMY OF FINE ARTS.
The present annual exhibition of this Institution is not inferior to any which has preceded it, and in the number of works by native artists, is considerably beyond any former season. It has no time to notice particularly the various objects claiming attention, but we would remark that the collection of portraits with which the walls of the gallery are adorned, has never, in this city, and probably in this country, been surpassed for pictorial beauty and striking fidelity of likeness. Sully, Neagle, Eichholz, Otis, Lawrence, Grimes, &c. have contributed largely to this collection; and some small whole-lengths by Mr. J. W. Hubbard, reflect high credit upon that young and promising artist. The miniatures by Miss Lewis, Miss Peale and others, are beautiful specimens of the perfection to which the art may be brought, and some drawings in crayon, of a deaf and dumb pupil of Mr. C. G. Childs, are really beautiful.

The large pictures are principally the same as former exhibitions; among which a very conspicuous place has been given to Neagle's famous picture of the late eccentric Patrick Lynn, his smithery. This painting has obtained great applause from the visitors. A whole length Lafayette, by Sully, did not strike us as being particularly entitled to praise.

The arrangement is very creditable to the taste of the committee, and we know no more agreeable of passing an hour than a lounge at the Academy. The rooms are well ventilated—cool, pleasant, and, aside from the merit of the exhibition, one is always sure to meet good company.

WILLIAMS' COMMERCIAL TABLES.
This valuable assistant to the Merchant, was first issued some years since in this city; but owing to the high price of the work, and some other circumstances not necessary to be known, a few copies only were disposed of. It is now offered at a very reduced price, at several of the book-stores, and every counting-house should be furnished with a copy.

Foreign weights, measures, and coins, by these tables, are reduced to the standard of the U. S. in an easy, familiar way, and the rate of interest at 5 to 8 per cent, inclusive, on any sum from $10 to 100,000 dollars, for any period not less than one day nor more than four years, can be ascertained with the greatest accuracy.

The utility of the work has been tested, and merits acknowledged by a large number of merchants and others, both in our own city and abroad.

Extract of a letter to the Editor, dated Louisville, (Ten.)—In the early part of month, locusts made their appearance in numbers. They emerged from the ground, and ascended the first tree or shrub which they came in contact, where, having fastened themselves of their old shell, they waited the first sunny hour, and then commenced incessant chirping, and clanging from place to place, which, up to the close of the month, continued without variation.

We are informed that there is now standing, in a garden of PETER ELLIS, Jr. at Cross-street, Burlington county, New Jersey, a pear from the trunk of which, in April, 1828, was completely stripped, all round, to the height of between one and two feet. Last year in this tree produced three kinds of pears, all came to perfection. One bough bore nine pears, growing so close as to touch each other, and weighing altogether twelve and three quarters. The tree has now died, and set, as usual. No new bark has yet appeared, but the trunk remains dry and bare as it is injured.

friend informs us that, during the heat and of Saturday afternoon, the hay-makers in the neighbourhood of Race and Vine streets, near the foot of the city, were completely alarmed for the safety of their hay, which they had made up with a large fork. A whirlwind took up the hay, and after carrying it some three or four red yards, perpendicularly, into the air, it fell in a shower of sparks, and the hay-makers were obliged to be conducted on an adjacent scale.—U. S. Gazette.

Extract of a letter dated 22nd JANUARY, 1829. The British Government having sent orders to make reprisals on Brazilian vessels to the amount claimed for the capture of the vessel called the Brigantine Ayres, if this Government refuse immediate satisfaction, it will cause some excitement. The vessel of war is now off the harbour, waiting the decision, which has been procrastinated some days. The amount claimed is £443,000 sterling, for vessels condemned and detained. It does not appear likely a settlement will be made until after some vessels are taken. This is either policy on the part of the government or hardihood.

THE SLAVE TRADE.
Captain Jackson, of the revenue cutter Marion, arrived at Savannah from Key West, states, upon unquestionable authority, the fact of many Spanish vessels sailing from the Havanna for the coast of Africa, with only two or three weeks' provisions on board, depending entirely for further supplies upon the different vessels they may fall in with, and from whom they can rob. The vessels are generally armed, and engaged in the slave trade, and are owned and fitted out at the Havanna.

THE LINE SHIP PENNSYLVANIA.
A writer in the Charleston Courier, in correcting some misstatements concerning this new ship, which have lately gone the rounds in the papers, states the following:—The Pennsylvania is a first class line of battle ship, what sea-men call a three decker. She will carry 120 guns on her three gun decks, and about 30 or 34 carronades upon her spar deck; leaving her gang ways and poop unencumbered. As nearly as I could ascertain the dimensions of this ship—for no measuring was allowed when I visited her, but her length and breadth could be nearly come at from those of the house under which she is built—she is about 280 feet upon deck, and 59 feet upon the beam, and will measure probably about 4000 tons, register tonnage. She will certainly carry long 42 pounders on her lower deck, but it is to be hoped that nothing heavier than long 32's will be thought of for the middle and main decks. On the spar deck, 42 pound carronades will be placed.

MAUCH CHUNK.
The season of warm weather is rapidly approaching, and consequently excursions to the country, watering places, sea shore, &c. must soon occupy the attention of the fashionable who reside in our populous cities. There is a long list of watering places before them; Mauch Chunk is not the last nor the least upon the list of places of resort, not only for the romantic and gay, but for the enquiring and scientific mind; the scenery in the immediate vicinity being well calculated to elicit admiration from the former; and the immense collection of mineral wealth affording ample excitement for research of the latter. The novel mode of riding upon a road apparently level, without any visible force being applied to the carriage, is of itself a sufficient inducement for many. For those who would be fond of a walk of a few miles, over the Broad Mountain to the Pine Swamp Settlement at the head of the present navigation, there is a delightful tract. Rafts descend every day from thence, and the trip down will abundantly repay for the trouble of going; to the river, most people make a visit to Mauch Chunk, and on returning make a visit to the mines, and upon arriving at the journey's end, with appetites not lessened by the salubrious breezes of the Lehigh, it is no small gratification to meet with a hearty welcome and right noble cheer, such as the Landlord of the Hotel is ever ready to serve up, as hundreds can attest who partook of it last summer. It is understood, too, that there will be a Packet boat running from Bethlehem, to the Lehigh, in the month of May, so that an opportunity will be afforded for those to come to Mauch Chunk who could not sustain the fatigue of riding—Lehigh Pioneer.

The Baroness, Mass. Gazette states that the animal, supposed to be a wolf, which, during the last eighteen months, "has destroyed some thing like a thousand sheep, besides many deer and foxes, in the town of Sandwich," was killed on Tuesday, after having been pursued for many miles by a party which sat out for that purpose. The towns of Sandwich and Falmouth had each offered one hundred dollars for the destruction of this wolf.

The last accounts from the West show that the waters of the Mississippi have fallen to a very low stage. The Cincinnati Advertiser of the 1st inst. says: "A gentleman passenger in the Brandywine, on Friday night last, informs us that the steamboat James O'Hara was aground near the Chickasaw Bluffs; her situation could not be exactly ascertained, it being in the dusk of the evening when they passed her, but it was thought doubtful. The Mississippi was lower than ever had been known at this season. There were many boats aground in the river, most of which were in a state of material ruin. The Brandywine, with little prospect of being got off at present. The greater part of her cargo had been put on board keels for Shawneetown, near which she lay. The best illustration of the extreme lowness of the river, the gentleman states, was, that the rich planters could not obtain water to flood their fields, without which they can make no crops.

A few years ago we obtained a small quantity of barley from the Mediterranean. Mr. Skinner sent a few grains of it to a respectable planter in Alabama. The following extract of a letter from that gentleman will show the result: "I have got four acres in barley from the Mediterranean, that Mr. Skinner sent me three years ago. My stock was about forty grains. It is a spring barley, but will stand a mild winter, and is certainly the heaviest I ever saw."—American Farmer.

A letter from a gentleman in Middletown, Conn. to his friend in New York, dated 10th inst. says:—"There was a horrid deed committed last evening in Berlin, by a man named Steel. He commenced by beating his wife on her head with an axe, and then cut her throat, after which he cut his own throat." It is said they are both dead. This diabolical transaction is supposed to be the effect of strong drink."

A large black bear, the only one seen in that neighborhood for a long time, was started, a few days since, in the village of Albion, Orleans county. He was in a hollow stump, which a man was in the act of cutting down. On the near approach of the axe, the bear clambered to the top, and jumped down alongside the axe-man, who was still then unconscious of his proximity to such an uncouth neighbor. Chase was immediately given; and the bear was shortly after shot from a tree, in which it took refuge near Oak Orchard Creek.—Lockport Register.

NAVY OF THE UNITED STATES.
The Navy of the United States now consists of seven ships of the line, seven frigates of the first class, four frigates of the second class, twelve sloops of war, and seven schooners. The oldest vessels are the frigates United States, Constitution, and Constellation, all built in the year 1797. There are now building in the United States, seven ships of the line and six frigates. Of the rank of lieutenants and upwards there are 325; surgeons, and surgeons mates, 97; pursers, 41; chaplains, 9; midshipmen, 443; sailing masters, 30; boatswains, 17; gunners, 19; carpenters, 12; sail makers, nine captains, and corps there are, one colonel, nine captains, and 39 lieutenants. The oldest officer in the navy is John Rogers, president of the board of commissioners of the navy. He entered the service in March, 1798. His present commission is dated 5th March, 1799. There are fifteen navy agents, seven naval store keepers, and eight naval contractors. The estimate required for the navy during 1829, is $5,006,277.

The New York papers of Tuesday contain the following letter from the SECRETARY OF STATE to PRESERVE FENN, the Chairman of a committee appointed by the merchants of New York interested in claims on France:

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
Washington, 4th June 1829.
Sir—I am directed, by the President, to inform you that he received, on the 17th of May, the memorial of the committee of citizens of New York having claims upon France, for spoliation committed on their property, which, as Chairman of that committee, you had forwarded to him; and to ask the favour you communicate this letter to the committee, as the President's decision upon their memorial.

It being the special object of the memorial to recommend and solicit an Extraordinary Mission, on the part of this Government, to that of France, exclusively to enforce the demands of justice, in reference to these and similar claims, I have the honour to state, that he has given to the subject the respectful and attentive consideration which was due to the suggestions of the memorialists, as well as to the important interests involved; and that he perceives nothing to induce a change, at the present time, of the course upon which, with much deliberation, he had determined, regarding the claims in question, which was, to continue the prosecution of them through the ordinary channel of the Legation of the United States at Paris, and of his Most Christian Majesty. To that effect, I have the honour to state, for the further information of the memorialists, that Mr. Rives will be particularly instructed, under the direction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils of his Most Christian Majesty, that the French Government will be disposed to accede to the suggestions of the memorialists, and to the satisfaction of the President, to urge upon the French Government a speedy adjustment of the claims which they represent, and of all others of citizens of the United States; and it cannot be doubted, from the justice and liberality of the Councils

TO THE JERSEY BARD.

My dear Sir, I have just received your letter of the 10th inst. and am glad to hear that you are well.

DEFINITIONS NOT FOUND IN THE DICTIONARY.

Abatement.—An intended bet. A stick whose temper has become sour. Afterward.—To make love to a rich orphan who has a cross guardian.

CROSS READINGS.

1. A dead took place last week, between Mr. Catholic Bill—in which the Catholic Bill was the victor.

ENIGMA.

I am a word of six letters, and constitute a habitation, though not for human beings.

RIDDLES.

I am a very useful companion, never talk, but have a very expressive face.

LONG STORIES.

Capt. S.—of the regiment, during the American war, was notorious for a propensity to tell long stories.

THE RUSTY NAIL.

When Dr. Donio took possession of his first living, he took a walk into the church yard, where the sexton was digging a grave.

neighbors reflect on his behavior, married the next day after her husband was buried.

DEFINITIONS NOT FOUND IN THE DICTIONARY.

Abatement.—An intended bet. A stick whose temper has become sour. Afterward.—To make love to a rich orphan who has a cross guardian.

CROSS READINGS.

1. A dead took place last week, between Mr. Catholic Bill—in which the Catholic Bill was the victor.

ENIGMA.

I am a word of six letters, and constitute a habitation, though not for human beings.

RIDDLES.

I am a very useful companion, never talk, but have a very expressive face.

LONG STORIES.

Capt. S.—of the regiment, during the American war, was notorious for a propensity to tell long stories.

THE RUSTY NAIL.

When Dr. Donio took possession of his first living, he took a walk into the church yard, where the sexton was digging a grave.

carpet-manufacturer. GEORGE MILNOR has removed to No. 33 North Third Street, between 4th and 5th.

ORCHARDS.

Among the farthest objects on which the eye rests, are the orchards which spread round the suburban homes.

DRUG & CHEMICAL STORE.

Situate at the N. E. corner of Chestnut and Second Streets, Philadelphia.

MOROCCO AND FANCY LEATHER.

HAS the pleasure to inform his customers and the public, that he has removed his old stand.

ANDREW R. CHAMBERS' LEATHER STORE.

No. 44 South Fifth Street, Philadelphia.

U. S. MAIL STAGE.

FROM Philadelphia to Harrisburg, via Kimberton, Yellow Springs, Morgan.

FOR SALE.

A Newspaper Printing Establishment, in a delightful part of the country, half a day's ride from the city of Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA LABYRINTH GARDEN.

The Arch is well suited for the purpose of a Labyrinth, and is now in a beautiful state.

EXHIBITION.

OF THE Art of Fancy Glass Working and Spinning, at the Masonic Hall.

REMOVAL.

STOCKLEY & BIRCH, TAILORS, HAVE removed from No. 149 to 188 Chestnut Street.

FRANKLIN HOTEL.

No. 141 Walnut Street, between 4th and 5th.

INDIGESTION.

Dr. Mead's Anti-Dyspeptic Pills, A safe and efficacious remedy for all those deranged states of the Digestive Organs.

DRUG & CHEMICAL STORE.

Situate at the N. E. corner of Chestnut and Second Streets, Philadelphia.

FOR SALE.

A House and Kitchen, 20 feet front, 45 feet deep, 2 stories high.

REMOVAL.

PETER WAGER, has removed his Wine and Liquor Establishment from No. 8 SOUTH FIFTH STREET.

MERCANTILE ACADEMY.

A NEW SYSTEM OF WRITING, taught by A. R. MEGGONAGAL, No. 206 Race Street.

BOOK-KEEPING.

He also informs them that he has completed a new system of book-keeping, and is now prepared to teach himself in from 10 to 20 lessons.

Baker's Intelligence Office.

No. 3 Franklin Place, Procures Houses and Farms, Boarders, Partners, Clerks, Overseers.

A SITUATION WANTED.

By a middle aged woman, as housekeeper—For the best accommodations can be given.

FIRE PROOF DOORS.

BRASS Doors and Standing Screw Presses, complete with iron sides, for Tobaccoists, Book Binders, Printers.

WILLIAM A. SCATTERGOOD, TAILOR.

RESPECTFULLY informs his friends, and the public in general, that he has removed to the above business, in all its various branches.

DULL & WHITES.

COMMISSION AND REPAIR WAREHOUSE, No. 4 Decatur Street, Philadelphia.

MR. HENDERSON.

No. 381 Race St. 1st door above 11th St. RESPECTFULLY informs his friends and the public that he practices his profession of CUPPING, BLEEDING, LEACHING, and TOOTH DRAWING.

SAMUEL YORKE ATLEE, ATTORNEY AT LAW.

HAVING located himself in Cincinnati, Ohio, offers his services to his late fellow citizens of Philadelphia in connection with all matters in which legal agency may be required.

STENOGRAPHY.

JUST received and for sale by CAREY, LEA & CO., No. 100 North Second Street.

TO MANUFACTURERS.

A PERSON thoroughly acquainted with the art of manufacturing, and with the management of a Cotton Factory.

HAT WAREHOUSE.

No. 30 South Sixth Street, two doors above Second.

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE CITY AND COUNTY OF PHILA.

FELLOW CITIZENS, PROMPTED BY THE ADVICE of many kind friends, and urged by the marks of approbation bestowed upon me.

YOUNG LADIES' INSTITUTE.

AT FRANKLIN RETREAT. MRS. LEVIE having had considerable experience in the management of Young Ladies' Seminars.

MANAYUNK.

THE PUBLIC HOUSE lately occupied by JAMES HENSHAW, in the flourishing village of MANAYUNK.

NOTICE.

WHEREAS, LEVI L. HAYES, a Son of South Carolina, died intestate, leaving a personal estate as follows:

Amount of sales of his goods and chattels, $250.00

NEGLECTED TEETH.

MANY Teeth can be saved later in life than others, particularly some of the grinders, the strong and powerful eye teeth.

REMOVAL.

Mrs. M. McMINN respectfully informs her friends and customers, that she has removed from No. 17 North Second Street to No. 11 SOUTH SECOND STREET.

YELLOW SPRINGS HOUSE.

MRS. HOLMAN, the proprietor of the above named establishment, respectfully informs her friends and the public that she has opened her establishment for the reception of the present season.

NOTICE.

THE Partnership heretofore existing between the firm of WILSON & SMALL, was dissolved by mutual consent.

Wholesale Shoe and Boot Warehouse.

No. 15 North Third Street, between Second and Third Streets, and the City Hall.

To Carpenters & Bricklayers.

FOR SALE, 30 Ladders. Inquire at No. 20 Stannard's Alley, running from Third Street, between Pine and Lombard Streets.

WATCHES, JEWELLERY.

THESE Watches are of the most reliable make, and are sold at a very low price.

REMOVAL.

CHAS. B. WAINWRIGHT & Co. have removed their office, Locomotion and Carriage Works, to No. 151 Market Street.

ORIGINAL. The value will be the same as the original.

PLEASANT. The value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.

THE value will be the same as the original.